Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, Black Hills State College, with a commitment to excellence, has now concluded a full century of service to the manifold educational needs of the people of South Dakota; and,

WHEREAS, The Territorial Legislature, in its wisdom, established that institution of higher education in Spearfish in 1883; and that institution has diligently met the challenges of the frontier and provided men and women trained in the letters, arts and sciences so that highly qualified teachers could be available to the elementary and secondary classrooms of South Dakota; and,

WHEREAS, Black Hills State College has efficiently and effectively changed and expanded to meet the intrinsic educational needs of the 20th Century; and has explored the possibilities and deveioped programs to meet the challenging needs of the 21st Century without diminishing or obscuring the current educational needs of the professions, industry and commerce; and,

WHEREAS, Black Hills State College is supported by an alumni association, a faculty and staff, and a host of friends who are sincerely dedicated to the pursuit of excellence; and,

WHEREAS, That institution has a complete agenda of academic and quasi-academic programs designed to enhance and enliven both the mental and physical aspects of the human nature; and,

WHEREAS, Black Hills State College has admirably met the difficult, yet dynamic, needs of our state and nation in both war and peace:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim 1983, as the

in South Dakota -- a year to celebrate the progress of the past and to prepare for the opportunities of the future.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Ninth Day of December, In the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Two
